

	09:15	Registration, networking and refreshments
Setting the Scene Solutions & Tools Workshop 1 Chair: Adam Donnan	09:45	Welcome, introduction & IES Community updates Adam Donnan, Chief Executive, Institution of Environmental Sciences & Community Reps
	10:05	The Four Necessary Conditions for Effective Cross-disciplinary Working Prof. Gary Kass, Visiting Professor in Sustainability Science, Policy & Practice, University of Surrey & Imperial College
	10:30	Keynote speaker 1 - Promoting the Circular Economy: A Case Study of Interdisciplinary Dialogue Prof. Paul Ekins OBE, Professor of Resources and Environmental Policy, and Deputy Chair, UK Government Circular Economy Taskforce, University College London
	10:55	"Everything is related to everything else..." Ed Parsons, Digital Geographer, edparsons.com
	11:20	Refreshments
	11:40	Chair introduction to workshop
	11:45	Workshop 1: Making Sense of Dialogue: Using Systems Thinking Diagramming Bryan Hopkins, Learning and Development Consultant, Bryan Hopkins Consulting
	12:30	Lunch
Interdisciplinarity in Action – Case Studies Chair: Siân Davies-Vollum	13:20	Chair introduction to session
	13:25	Why We Need Environmental Social Science Prof. Birgitta Gatersleben, Professor of Environmental Psychology, University of Surrey
	13:35	Analysing Air Pollution and its Management through the Lens of the UN Sustainable Development Goals Prof. Jim Longhurst, Emeritus Professor Environmental Science, University of the West of England, Bristol
	13:45	How Can Systems Thinking Help to Make the Case for Nature-based Solutions? A Case Study from the Blackwater Colne Estuary Justin Brassett, Systems Thinking Advisor and Water Sector Analyst, Mott MacDonald
	13:55	Placemaking: An Environmentally Informed Approach Natalie Murray, Technical Director of Landscape Architecture, SLR Consulting
	14:05	Q&A session
	14:35	Refreshments
Workshops 2 & 3 Chair: Siân Davies-Vollum	14:50	Chair introduction to session
	14:55	Workshop 2: A Systems Thinking Approach to Nature-based Solutions Justin Brassett, Systems Thinking Advisor and Water Sector Analyst, Marieke Nieuwaal, Technical Director of Nature-based Solutions and Declan Sealy, Nature-based Solutions Specialist, Mott MacDonald
	15:40	Keynote speaker 2 – Transformative Change – The Human Element Diana Pound, Director, Dialogue Matters
	16:05	Workshop 3: Discussion Patterns Diana Pound, Director, Dialogue Matters
	16:50	Wrap up: Reflections on the day and what is next? Adam Donnan, Chief Executive, Institution of Environmental Sciences
	17:00	Conference close